—Louis P. Ehrlich, a very prominent art collector of New York city, died in London on Tuesday, of asthma. Mr. Ehrlich was making a tour in search of old masterpieces when stricken. He was a classmate in Yale with the late Samuel Weiss, formerly of this place.

—The Greater Honesdale Board of Trade has received application from a New York state party for the establishment of a steam laundry in Honesdale. The application was received through Dorin's agency, the party inquiring about a property. Mr. Dorin uses Board of Trade literature in all letters sent out by him.

—Pastor George S. Wendell of the Honesdale Baptist church, has adopted a novel way of reshelving the parsonage. He sells the shingles at the rate of one dollar per dozen, six for fifty cents and three for a quarter of a dollar. The sale is not exclusively for church members, but open to citizens of the town. Mr. Wendell says people buying shingles are not limited to a dozen. It will require about 3,500 shingles to cover the roof. John Bryant is using the Cortright shingle.

—Daniel H. Maloney, Honesdale's hustling Erie agent, and M. J. McAndrew, representing Hawley, left Thursday for New York City, where they will attend a quarterly meeting of the local freight agents of the entire Erie system. The sessions will convene for three days and will be held in Erie offices, New York. Before leaving Mr. Maloney said he would try to impress upon the conference that Honesdale is an active manufacturing center and that he would speak a good word for the town.

—Thomas Quinney is improving his property on Ridge street by building a retaining wall.

—Miss Mabel Broad held a recital in her studio, Main street, Wednesday afternoon. About 30 pupils took part.

The membership consists of 39, who joined the new church by letter, being former members of the Rileyville Presbyterian church. The elders consist of Reed Gager, Edgar E. Yale, Scott, John L. and Otto Douglas. Elders Hopkins and Gager were present in addition to Rev. W. Von Krug, pastor of the new church; Rev. Joseph Wesley, of Forty Fort; Rev. W. H. Swift, D., Andrew Thompson and R. M. Stocker, all of Honesdale.

—Dr. Wm. T. McConville, Homer Green and C. J. Brown, commissioners appointed by Judge A. T. Seale, to inquire into the lunacy of William Malloy, having found that the said William Malloy was insane at the time of his inquisition, it was ordered by the Court, October 24, that he be removed to the hospital for the insane at Danville. William Malloy was discharged from Danville October 13, 1910, upon the application of the Poor Board of Honesdale and Texas but since then his condition has grown worse, and in order to protect her brother as well as others, his sister, Kathryn Schaefer, applied to the Court, Oct. 14, for the appointment of a commission to pass on his mental state.

—About 40 friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Warren P. Schenck gathered at their home on Terrace street Monday evening to offer congratulations and help in celebrating the 38th anniversary of their marriage which occurred Oct. 22, 1873. The evening was a merry one and a very pleasant time was enjoyed by all. Mr. and Mrs. Schenck were given an angle reading lamp. The presentation speech was made by Rev. W. H. Miller. A number of Cherry Ridge relatives and friends were also present. Mr. Schenck has lived in his home on Terrace street for 41 years. The Citizen offers congratulations and hopes that Mr. and Mrs. Schenck will live to enjoy many more years of marital happiness.

—Taken from Thursday's Scranton Tribune-Republican under the caption of Stroller's Notes: "I understand that W. W. Wood, of Honesdale, when in the city a few days ago, was in conference with a few of our capitalists endeavoring to induce them to join him in a manufacturing enterprise for Honesdale. The nature of the proposition was not disclosed, but I am informed that it appealed very strongly to Scranton men and, if the project goes through, it will supply an ideal manufacturing plant for the Maple City. While, of course, Scrantonians would much prefer to see Scranton money interested in home undertakings, I do not know of a better place than Honesdale in which to invest money and no better man to entrust it to than Mr. Wood."

—If a curfew law were enacted in Honesdale there would not be as many mothers worried over the lives of their young sons as leading. Eight o'clock is late enough for any boy or girl to be on the street, unless accompanied by their parents or guardians. The evening could be spent in reading or in other diversions of amusement to much better advantage than spending their time upon the streets, getting in with bad company and learning street talk. It is under the cover of darkness that considerable mischief is accomplished, which if not halted, will lead on to the performance of much bolder and law-breaking antics. A curfew law is needed for Honesdale, but if not enforced, would amount to no more than the ordinance for speeding automobiles.

—When Court was convened by Judge Alonzo T. Searle, Thursday afternoon, at 2 o'clock the following accounts were presented for confirmation absolute: John L. Burcher, Honesdale; Lydia Bennett, Carbondale; Stephen Torrey, Honesdale; Martha Paul, Honesdale; John J. Fulkerson, Mt. Pleasant; Wm. C. Ames, Hawley; S. L. Oliver, Berlin; Grace Giles, Prompton; Elizabeth Bennett, Prompton; Sarah A. Wilson, Honesdale. Second and final account of M. J. Hanlan, guardian of Eugene C. Lesh, a feeble-minded person; first and partial account of Geo. H. Ham, guardian of Lewis L. Ham, a feeble-minded person. Appraisements were allowed to the widows of Lewis Hill, Damascus; real estate; Julia Washburn, minor child of Frank L. Washburn, Preston; personal estate.

—The Baptist ladies will hold a cake sale in the Chapel on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Johnny get your gun and cog and shooting jacket, the hunting season opens next Wednesday.

—A marriage license was granted on Thursday to Andrew McDermott of Pleasant Mount, and Miss Lillian Legan, Duryea.

—Rev. G. S. Wendell will conduct public services and preach at the Derry Baptist church on Sunday afternoon next at 2:30 o'clock.

WALLACE J. BARNES.

For Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts of Wayne county the Republicans have nominated one of the most widely known and reliable men in all Wayne county. In Wallace J. Barnes, of Berlin township, a splendid selection was made for the position, he possessing all the qualifications necessary. Three years ago Mr. Barnes was a candidate for the office he is now seeking, having been defeated by a large number of votes. This year he won the nomination in fine style and is now in the field making an active and vigorous canvass for his election. Mr. Barnes is a staunch Republican and is one of the best known citizens of Wayne county and is popular wherever he is acquainted regardless of his political affiliations. None of the members of his family ever sought an office. Individually he is a law-abiding, practical and conversant citizen, a man who by persistency has been successful in all his ventures. He is painstaking and conscientious, careful and sincere, and a person whose genial disposition and many other excellent qualities has won for him the esteem of a large circle of staunch friends. Vote for Mr. Barnes for Prothonotary.

—The Citizen from now until January, only 25 cents.

LEST WE FORGET.

Not to Baker, nor Davis, nor Collins nor Bender, Is due the applause of the thousands to-day; To these come the bays of the winning contender, There's plenty to cheer their victorious way.

But the sportsman to-day, as he views the disaster, That came to the Giants when hope ran so strong, Will think of the man, of the law-stricken master, Of Mathewson, fallen, though mighty so long.

Any pin-head galeot can cling close to a winner, And shout with the mob when the king passes by, But there, where the ranks of the vanquished thinner, There—there is the place where real manhood runs high.

There—there, when defeat burns the laurels to ashes, Where the proud page of triumph is nearing its end, Is the place for the sport who can stand for the lashes, When Fortune, once kind, has turned sore on a friend.

He has fought, he has lost—but a great blaze of glory, Blots out any tarnish that threatens his fame; "Blix Six" is secure and will ever endure— And his record will stand to the end of The Game.

—E. D. O. in Scranton Tribune.

ANNIVERSARY

ANNOUNCEMENT!

On October 28th, the Anniversary of the opening of the Rowland Jewelry Store, I have decided to introduce an innovation, new and unusual in Wayne county. The scheme is distinctly NOT of a money-making nature but is merely to induce you to drop in the Jewelry shop and look over our LARGE and UP-TO-DATE line of Jewelry, Watches, Clocks, etc.

The Idea is This: The window of the store will be filled with packages containing jewelry of every description—articles ranging in value from 25 cents to $3.50.

A Person May pay 25 cents and withdraw from the window any package the size or contour of which may please their fancy.

Besides the Prizes in the packages there will be several SPECIAL PRIZES which will be displayed in the window on Friday. It will be an interesting game and everyone will secure VALUE RECEIVED for their money.

The Sale, which starts on Saturday, will continue until all packages are sold.

"An adjacent gravel hill, 50 feet high and covering four acres, was levelled to obtain material for building up this remarkable roadbed, and rocks weighing many tons each were tumbled into the depths of the pit before a solid roadway could be made across it. When the task was accomplished after months of incessant labor it was found that that quarter of a mile of roadbed had cost more than $125,000."

OUR BOYS

EDITED BY

ONE OF THEM

The leaders of the Boy Scouts of America have made arrangements with several boys' preparatory schools throughout the country to adopt the Boy Scout movement as a supplement to their educational work. Many other academies are considering the adoption of it. Scouting activities in a general way have been taken up by several schools and have been found very helpful and popular. The different phases of scouting can be added to the school work and give additional incentive to the boys both in their studies and in their athletic work. For instance, a boy who becomes a scout can win badges for being proficient in various studies, in athletic events and in his tramps on holidays through the country around the academy which he attends.

The training which the boys receive by engaging in other scout activities can be used as a substitute for military drills and tactics. In the majority of schools the military training is given simply as a means of discipline. Scout activities provide discipline, body building and character training, and THEY TAKE THE BOYS' MINDS AWAY FROM THE THOUGHT OF WAR.

The boy scouts will meet in the gymnasium of the High school for drill this (Thursday) evening.
